CMS Headless

A blog creation

You already created a blog, so you already know the basic structure of it.

Now imagine the work if you need to create everything by hand all the time.

That why you will use a CMS to take care of this automatically.

CMS, but headless please

A CMS is a Content Management System (Wordpress, Wix, Drupal...), a headless CMS is the same without any front-end.

Your goal is to create a simple interface and to connect this CMS to your interface to dynamically create the pages.

Hosting

Your website can be hosted on

- GitHub (with gh-pages)
- Netlify
- Heroku
- Now

Organisation

This project is a group project so stay online and work together.

You can use Trello, GitHub Project or Jira to organise yourselves.
